Clear Space Usage

When using the primary mark, be sure to provide clear space to ensure uninterrupted readability. The recommended amount of clear space should be equal to the width or height of the letter C in COMPASS.

Logo Usage

The Compass mark has been designed in various versions and color variations to ensure flexibility and adaptability for assorted uses and applications. Please adhere to the approved marks and refrain from modifying the mark in any way, as this could affect readability, consistency and recognition. Here are a few examples of how the mark should not be used in application.

Do not change the color of any of the logos.

This will change the look and feel of the brand.

Rotating the logo creates visual inconsistency, alters the lockup and makes the brand name harder to read.

Do not adjust the proportions or layout of the icon and wordmarks when used together.

Changing this lockup will dilute the brand and cause inconsistencies in our visual appearance.

Avoid applying a drop shadow to any of the logos.

This effect will soften the appearance and result in an undesired effect.

Do not add any additional outlining to any of the marks.

The application of additional outlining creates additional visual clutter and takes away from the simplicity we strive to achieve.

When using the logo on a dark background, use only marks approved for such use as denoted in a previous page.

Reversing the colors of the Compass mark alters and transforms the shapes and lines of the logo creating something similar but inconsistent.

Logo Usage on Backgrounds

In particular instances, the Compass logo may be placed on full-bleed imagery. Position the logo over solid contrasting areas within the image. Use photography that does not compete with the legibility of the logo.

Do not place any logo over an image, texture, or pattern that diminishes the prominence or legibility of the logo.

Be selective about where and when the logo is used against imagery or photography.

BRAND COLORS

Compass has a distinct palette of colors for use across all mediums. The colors are grouped in categories by primary and secondary.

These colors play a huge role in defining who we are as an organization. Our modern palette helps us stand out and gives an identity to our entire organization. In order to ensure a cohesive and unified brand, these colors should be used consistently.

Secondary colors are to be used sparingly for added accent when necessary. They are primarily for adding emphasis to web uses. Examples include calls-to-action, hover states, and rule lines. Use discretion when utilizing these colors as to not overpower our primary colors.
